Dear Church Body,

We, as a search team, would like to update you and keep you informed on this journey that God has called us to - that of searching out the man for our next worship pastor. We have had several serious candidates, multiple interviews, hours of meetings and precious time together in prayer. We believe God is at work and doing things among the body of CCBC, among our team as a whole and in our lives individually. We see that, and THAT grows our faith. At this point in the process, our search has not yielded a final candidate...so we press on. We do not know what God is doing or how He is weaving this all together, but we know and believe He is and we are encouraged by that! We truly covet your prayers for us as a team, for us individually and for the candidates that God brings our way. Pray for continued unity among our team. God has certainly been more than good and gracious to us by giving us perseverance, gentleness with one another and a likemindedness and love that only comes from Him. We are truly blessed.
